

Words ending in y are also tricky !

lonely + er      loneli*y*      er

noisy + er      noisi*y*      er

Can you see what is happening ?

If a word ends in a y you must change the y into an i before adding 'er'.

Have a go at adding 'er' to these words

 happy + er

---

 silly + er

---

 easy + er

---

It is just as easy to add 'est' to these words.

happy

happier

_____

silly

sillier

_____

easy

easier

_____

Ask a grown up to read 1, 2 and 3 to you. I wonder if you can spell the words with the suffixes in them correctly...?

1: The gentle giant was happier now that Jack was safe.

2: My mum gives me the easiest jobs to do around the house. I do wish they were harder for me!

3: Roman was happy. Adam was happier. George was the happiest.

How did you do? Did you remember how to add the suffixes? If so, great! If not, what did you need to remember for next time?